JAMES HALL BADLY HURT EARLY TODAY

LOCAL YOUNG MAN SUFFERS
LOSS OF LOWER PART OF RIGHT LEG

MOTORCYCLE HIT FREIGHT

Serious Accident Occurred At Jackson Street Crossing Of Monon Railroad

James (Jug) Hall, son of Ed Hall and a well known local young man, suffered the loss of his right leg just about the ankle early Wednesday morning. The tragic accident occurred at the Monon railroad crossing on north Jackson street about 4:30 o'clock.

According to reports, young Hall was riding a motorcycle belonging to Dallas Runyan, and he drove directly into a freight train standing on the crossing. County coroner Russell J. Shannon, who was summoned to the scene with his ambulance, stated that Hall told him that he did not see the train nor did he see the warning flasher. It was said Hall was on the north side of the crossing headed south on Jackson street when the accident took place.

Trainmen and city police applied a tourniquet and young Hall was rushed to the Putnam county hospital in the Shannon ambulance.

Hall has been employed at times by the Cherry Transfer Co., and is widely known and his many friends will regret to learn of his serious mishap. In addition to the loss of the lower part of his right leg, he suffered head injuries, jolt and shock.

It was said that Hall stopped at the Monon restaurant and asked Junior Crawley to take a ride with him. The latter did not go and young Hall drove to the Big Four arch, turned around and started back. He ran into the southbound freight train No. 71. The severed portion of his leg was found on the inside of the rails.

Coroner Shannon stated shortly before noon Wednesday that had it not been for the efficient first aid administered on the scene, Hall might have bled to death.

British Forces Join Main Body

SLASH THROUGH JAPANESE LINES ACCORDING TO BURMA DISPATCHES

LONDON, March 11.—(UP)—British forces which had been isolated in the Pegu sector above Rangoon have fought their way out of the enemy trap and joined the main empire forces, dispatches from the Burma front said today.

British troops from the Pegu sector and Rangoon were believed to be withdrawing in good order to form a new line.

It was indicated that they would take their stand beside strong Chinese forces along a line where Lashio, terminus of the Burma road, and the Bay of Bengal approaches to India could be defended.

Japanese forces were reported to have suffered heavy casualties in opposing the British break-out at Pegu, but it was admitted that the British too had suffered considerable losses under the combined attack of Japanese ground and air forces.

It was indicated that there was still heavy fighting in the general region of Pegu.

British planes continued active, and a Burma command communiqué said the Japanese airdrome at Moulmein had been bombed heavily Monday.

India dispatches reported that American fliers of the American volunteer group had shot down 43 Japanese planes last week.

So far, it was asserted, only seven of between 60 and 70 American pilots in the group had been lost.

A communiqué issued at New Delhi, India, said that the British withdrawal from Rangoon was made necessary when the Pegu troops to the north were isolated.

The Japanese succeeded in effecting a landing on the north bank of the Bakir river, it was explained, thus threatening the forces at Rangoon with entrapment.

At the same time, it was said, Japanese troops in the Pegu sector infiltrated through the jungle to the west and proceeded on toward the

NEW CITY WILL BE ERECTED IN INDIANA

LAPORTE, Ind., March 11.—(UP)—On a tract of rolling Hoosier farmland seven miles south of here a government-owned city for 12,000 persons will mushroom within the next few months—a city complete to the last barber shop and corner drug store.

An army of construction workers is scheduled to break ground about April 1. Streets and street lights, fire and police stations, health service, post office, bank, churches, community centers and 3,150 single family homes will rise to house workers at the Kingsbury ordnance plant where shells are loaded for United States fighting men.

Japs In Bataan Await Air Aid

M'ARTHUR EXPECTS STRONG
AERIAL REINFORCEMENTS TO REACH INVADERS

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(UP)—Japan's new commander-in-chief in the Philippines, Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, today was believed to be awaiting the arrival of strong aerial reinforcements before unleashing his anticipated all-out offensive against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Bataan lines.

War department officials said Yamashita's 200,000 or more troops were without the heavy air support which aided them in the early weeks of the Philippine invasion, due to the shifting of squadrons of bombers, dive-bombers and fighters southwestward for the assaults on Singapore and Java.

Yamashita is believed to be bringing back this air strength, perhaps in even greater force, for which may be a double-barreled assault upon MacArthur's Bataan positions and the American fortresses at the entrance to Manila Bay.

Military observers said they anticipated a different strategy from Yamashita than that followed by his ill-fated predecessor, Lieut. Gen. Masaharu Homma who is believed to have committed hara-kiri.

Whereas Homma alternated between blows on the Bataan land front and bombardments of Corregidor and the other American forts in Manila Bay, Yamashita may strike simultaneously on Bataan and by artillery and aerial bombardment of the island forts, it was said.

His purpose would be not only to knock MacArthur's little army off Luzon island but prevent it from making a stand under siege in Corregidor.

War department observers also speculated that Homma might be installing larger guns around the Japanese-held Cavite naval base across Manila Bay from Corregidor, possibly large naval weapons.

The Japanese six-inch and eight-inch guns which Homma used against the forts have failed to silence the American guns or wreck the rocky bastions despite weeks of hammering.

MacArthur's troops marked time on Bataan, although constantly alert for any surprise. There has been no action for three days, while Yamashita presumably reorganizes his forces. One war department official said it might be a week or 10 days before Yamashita, from his headquarters at San Fernando about 20 miles north of the Bataan front, is ready to launch his offensive.

DR. OVERSTREET NEW PRESIDENT OF T. B. GROUP

ELECTED AT MEETING OF PUT-NAM COUNTY ASSOCIATION
TUESDAY NIGHT

SUCCEEDS JOHN L. POOR

Other Officials Re-Elected To Serve
With Dr. Overstreet. Reports
Are Of Great Interest

Dr. O. F. Overstreet was elected president of the Putnam County Tuberculosis Association at the annual dinner meeting for the election of officers held at the Home Economics room, Greencastle High School, Tuesday evening. Dr. Overstreet succeeds John L. Poor who has so ably filled the office the last two years.

Those re-elected to serve with Dr. Overstreet are Paul F. Boston, first vice president; Mrs. Estes Duncan, second vice president; Mrs. B. Frank Jones, recording secretary; Miss Helen Black, treasurer. Mrs. Gray Potter was re-appointed executive secretary.

Elected to membership on the Board of Directors were John L. Poor, Mrs. Robert Crosby, Mrs. Emory Brattain and Ward Mayhall.

Activities of the association during the past year as reported by the executive secretary included health education, free clinics, assisting patients in gaining admission to the state sanatorium, the early diagnosis campaign, tuberculin testing of school children, and the annual Seal Sale. Health education is promoted through the distribution of pamphlets, circulars, leaflets, doctor's abstracts, teacher's health bulletins, press articles, posters, speakers, etc.

Free clinics were held at intervals at which 57 patients were given chest examinations and also instructions in healthful living.

Tuberculin testing of high school pupils was given in the schools of Greencastle, Roachdale, Russellville, Clinton Center, Bainbridge, Reelsville, Belle Union and Cloverdale. A total of 324 pupils were tested. All positive reactors were X-rayed at the Putnam county hospital.

Cooperating with the association in the tuberculin testing program are the Putnam County Medical Association, the Putnam County Hospital, school officials, Parent Teacher Associations, city and county nurses.

The association's program for 1942 was discussed and approved. Miss Helen Black gave a report of the recent Seal Sale. Final returns showed a substantial gain over last year and are above the quota assigned Putnam county by the state association.

This makes possible the continuance of our fight towards the prevention, control and final eradication of tuberculosis.

Mr. Poor in expressing his appreciation for the loyal support given by his executive committee, the township Seal Sale chairmen, bond sale committee, city Seal Sale committee, all volunteer workers and the citizens of Putnam county, stressed the need in these trying times of a broadening of our tuberculosis program to combat tuberculosis due to increased strain and deprivations which accompany war.

Mrs. Frank Jones paid tribute to the memory of the late E. R. Bartley who was president of the Putnam County Tuberculosis Association from 1932 to 1936 and a member of the Board of Directors since 1936.

Representatives from all parts of the county were present at the meeting.

Dr. Overstreet in accepting the office of president pledged his utmost endeavor in furthering the work the association has planned for this year.

LOGAN WOODRUM TAKES POSITION AS WATCHMAN

Logan Woodrum, city policeman, has asked for a 90-day leave of absence from his duties, to accept a position as watchman around the building of the American Telephone & Telegraph station, south of Greencastle on state road 43.

Woodrum's leave of absence became effective at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mayor W. D. James announced that William Alspaugh will be acting policeman in Woodrum's place.

Anzac Warplanes Hit Jap Vessels

AUSTRALIAN FLIERS INFLICT
SEVERE BLOWS ON INVA-SION ZONES

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 11.—(UP)—Royal Australian Air Force planes have set fire to a Japanese warship and four transports, left two other ships sinking and another beached and have set afire a great Japanese flying boat in ferocious raids on the enemy invasion zone in the New Guinea area, a communiqué said today.

In addition, it was asserted, the Australian planes in their heaviest and most determined raid of the war scored near misses on other enemy ships calculated to cause extensive if not crippling damage.

(London dispatches said that the attacks were led by veteran Australian crews who had returned from other fighting fronts, presumably Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies. It was not indicated whether American made planes were engaged.)

The Japanese warship suffered several direct hits, an air ministry communiqué said, and burst into flames.

Crews of the Australian planes saw four Japanese transport burning as they headed for home, it was said, in addition to the two in sinking condition and one beached.

The attacks were made daringly at low level, it was understood, on Japanese bases all over the invasion zone northeast of the Australian continent.

Salamaua and Lae, on the Gulf of Huon on the north coast of New Guinea, where the Japanese made their first landing on that great island, were attacked heavily. The Australian planes attacked enemy shipping at Hanischhafen, on the north shore of the gulf. They raided a Japanese invasion fleet which had effected new landings at Finischhafen, 35 miles northeast of Hanischhafen on the Dampier Strait, around the corner of the gulf.

In an attack on Gasmata, on the coast of New Britain island across the strait from Finischhafen, the Australian planes set fire to the giant four motored enemy flying boat.

The Australian planes, including the heaviest bombers, machine gunned as well as bombed and it was believed that Japanese troop concentrations ashore were attacked.

Four of the Japanese transports, those which were left in flames, were attacked off Finischhafen after they had landed troops.

By their Finischhafen landing, the Japanese had tightened their grip on the Dampier Strait, between New Guinea and New Britain island where they had made their first landings in the Australian defense zone.

An air ministry communiqué disclosed that Japanese planes had made reconnaissance flights yesterday over Darwin, the Australian north coast base, but said the planes had been driven off.

As the government prepared urgently to safeguard the country against invasion attempts, War Minister Francis M. Forde said in a public statement:

"Know nothing, if there is an invasion, and if possible give the enemy misleading information. Place every obstacle in his way."

The government forbade the display of tourist maps outside hotels and other places and warned the public against permitting maps to fall into enemy hands.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program.

APRIL 12TH IS DESIGNATED AS 'BOND SUNDAY'

INDIANA VOTERS TO REGISTER
PARTICIPATION IN DE-FENSE CAMPAIGN

VOLUNTARY PLEDGING PLAN

Two Major Political Parties Will Join Hands To Finance Nation's Greatest War

For the first time in 125 years of state history, Indiana voters will go to the polls Sunday, April 12, not to name public officials or to vote in a referendum, but to register their voluntary participation in the nation's drive to finance its greatest war by sale of Defense Bonds.

The day, which for the first time will see the two political parties join hands at the polls, will be known as "Bond Sunday." Significantly, it follows Easter Sunday by one week.

For the sake of state-wide unity in the war financing effort, leaders and precinct officials of both parties will work together on Bond Sunday, setting up machinery for the registration and opening their poll books three weeks before the May 5 primary elections.

The one-day polling emphasizes voluntary participation in war-savings. It replaces the long-drawn-out house-to-house canvass method used in Liberty Bond Drives in World War I.

Bond Sunday, because it is predicated on a voluntary pledging plan and because it will call on everyone in the state to visit his precinct polling place, embraces principles as democratic as the ideals for which America is fighting in World War II.

The state's nearly 4,000 polling places will be decorated with the national colors and Defense Savings posters by American Legion and Legion auxiliary members, who will also staff the polls. Helping them will be five precinct workers and a precinct poll book holder from each of the two political parties. The polls will open at noon following church services, and between noon and 3 p. m. when they close.

Almost everyone in the state will sign a pledge form indicating to what extent he is participating or will participate by investment in Defense Bonds. The pledging will be secret, with the pledge to receive one copy of the form and two additional copies to be placed in government envelopes for mailing to the Indiana Defense Savings Staff in Indianapolis. Thus will the complete Bond Sunday poll-call of Hoosier families be made in exactly 8 hours.

Each registrant will be given a window sticker for display in his home to show that he is doing his share. The stickers will be obtainable only after the pledge form is signed and only by those who sign pledge forms.

"The pledge form signed on Bond Sunday does not necessarily represent an additional or duplicate pledge," said Mr. Pulliam. "Object of the pledging is to put the whole Defense Savings program on a uniform basis, with everyone signing the same form at the same time. The pledges will provide a comprehensive registration and give recognition to those already taking part, in some way, in the bond investment program."

It was explained that those who because of illness or absence cannot go to the polls on Bond Sunday may mail pledge forms to Executive Chairmen in their areas. Pledge forms, which will be reproduced in all newspapers of the state, can be clipped from the papers and used by these absentees instead of the actual forms available at the polls.

NUTRITION CLASSES

The nutritive value of fruits and vegetables, fundamentals of cooking and wise purchasing will be discussed at the fourth meeting of the Bainbridge nutrition class on Thursday, March 12, 7:30 p. m.

Vegetables and fruits are important as food not only because they please the appetite but also because they contain so many substances necessary for the growth and health. They are some of our best sources of necessary mineral matter, vitamins, and roughage. They also add a pleasing variety to the meals and should be included in the daily menu. It is well to consider the variety of fruits and vegetables available, their value as food and numerous methods of converting them into attractive and nutritious dishes.

The three previous meetings have been well attended. All women of the community of Bainbridge are welcome to attend and take part in these discussions.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

Mrs. Zella Roach, chairman of the Social Service Committee, Women of the Moose, has promised a very interesting program for the committee's Chapter Night program which will be held Wednesday evening, March 11th. The co-workers of this chapter, the members of the local lodge, and the general public are invited to this open meeting. Social Service being a subject of interest and concern to every citizen, because of its direct association with the health and welfare of every community, it is expected that many will avail themselves of the opportunity.

The Women of the Moose Social Service committee is offering, and will attend the presentation of its Chapter Night program, which will sum-up in brief outline, the Social Service activities of the local chapter, as well as the activities of the National Organization of which they are a part.

Social Service chairman Mrs. Roach further reminded the chapter members that the Social Service Committees throughout the United States, Canada and Alaska, in the name of the Women of the Moose, are sponsoring dental clinics; assisting in securing pensions for the blind, for war veterans and mothers and for widowed mothers; free hospitalization for tubercular patients and crippled children; and so on down the line in all instances where physical needs exist.

The Social Service Committee also announced that a class of candidates would be initiated on its Chapter Night program of women who have signified their desire to join the Chapter's Defending Circle and participate in its humanitarian service.

DETAILS OF CHANGES ANNOUNCED IN SELECTIVE SERVICE PROCEDURE

Details of changes in Selective Service procedure designed to speed up induction after a registrant has passed the physical examination by his local board medical examiners were announced today in State Headquarters for Selective Service. Under the new induction procedure, effective March 30, registrants will be given a notice to report for induction when they are sent to the army medical examiners instead of a notice to report for physical examination. Upon passing the army physical examination, men qualified for military service will be immediately inducted. It is important that men who are now being classified and physically examined understand these changes," said Major Shumate, the assistant director at State Selective Service Headquarters. During the period of change-over from the present system to the new system, registrants who go to the army examining board will return to their homes before receiving an order to report for induction. After March 30, however, Major Shumate stated, every registrant who has been classified into Class I-A following a physical examination by the local board examiner will receive an order to report for induction, and if found physically qualified by the army examiner will be inducted immediately.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, National Director of Selective Service, in announcing the new induction procedure, said that the War Department has given the Selective Service System assurance that furloughs will be given in cases where the registrant, after induction, needs time to adjust his civilian affairs. Such furloughs will be granted in cases of undue hardship caused by induction immediately after passing the army physical examination, General Hershey said, but these furloughs will be granted by the army and not by the local board.

It is obvious that many men will be rejected by the army examining board and that registrants who have been ordered to report for induction will not be able to make final arrangements to adjust their civilian affairs until it is determined whether or not they are acceptable by the armed forces.

"Registrants will have to work out

TAKE THE "IRK" OUT OF HOMEWORK!

Light Condition Your Home

It's such an easy matter, and it costs so little, to keep your children's eyes young and strong. A moment's thought now to the type of lamp, where it is placed, the size of its bulb, is the best possible insurance you can have. And that goes for other kinds of homework, too—sewing, reading—anything that gives a chance for eyestrain. Play safe and light condition your home NOW.

NATIONAL
SAVE YOUR VISION
WEEK
MARCH 8-14

Jimmy's eyes will relax when you put an I.E.S. lamp on his study table. Make sure the lamp has at least a 100-watt bulb so he'll be sure of full better-sight benefits. I.E.S. lamps are grand for reading, sewing, playing too!

When Jimmy and Mary both study at the dining room table, you can help them sail through their work and guard their eyes with an inexpensive 3-lite fixture. Father will love it at mealtime, too!

Mary's practicing will seem easier if you put an I.E.S. 3-lite lamp beside the piano. You'll cheer up the whole room and get new use from that old glare-maker on the ceiling if you replace its glaring bulbs with simple plastic shades and Silvered Bowl MAZDA lamps.

LOW-COST WAYS to better light in every room

Pin-up lamp. Grand for any hard-to-light spot. Hangs on the wall like a picture. Wonderful for bed light.

Wall bracket shades slit out glare, add color and decoration.

Plastic diffuser with 100 or 150-watt MAZDA lamp gives generous, soft light from center ceiling fixtures.

Conversion fixture and silvered bowl bulb provides cheery, indirect light at a twist of the wrist. Excellent in kitchen and bedroom.

Reflector with 150-watt silvered bowl bulb supplies better lighting for laundry, workshop or garage.

Diffusing bowl converts old style floor and table lamps into modern better sight types.

You can TAKE 'EM WITH YOU!
Modern Adapters go up with a twist of the wrist and come down the same way!

some sort of flexible arrangements in closing their affairs," Major Shumate continued. "This is not going to be easy. Employers will find it necessary to replace the men who are leaving their jobs, but it will be necessary to make some temporary arrangement until the man has either been accepted or rejected by the army. Registrants who are rejected by the army should not be forced to leave their jobs and then find it necessary to seek other employment in the event of their rejection for military service.

Likewise, many difficulties will arise in connection with the disposal of property, but we feel that here, too, arrangements can be made which will become effective only in the event of induction. Local boards and civilian defense agencies will render every possible assistance to registrants who face difficulties of this nature."

Under the new system, the registrant will find himself processed in the following manner. The local board first determines whether or not the registrant should be deferred into one of the following deferred classifications: Class IV-F, Minister of Religion; Class IV-C, Alien; Class IV-B, Official deferred by law; Class III-A, Deferred for dependency; Class II-B, Necessary Man in War Production Program; Class II-A, Man necessary in his Civilian Activity.

If the registrant is not placed in a deferred classification, he receives a notice to report for physical examination by the local board examiner. This examination is known as a "screening" examination and determines physical fitness only in a general manner.

As a result of this physical examination, the registrant is classified into Class I-A. Available for General Military Service, or may find himself placed in Class I-B, Available for Limited Military Service, or Class IV-F, Physically Unfit for Military Service.

The right of personal appearance before the local board and the ten-day period in which an appeal may be made begins on the date the notice of classification was mailed.

The registrant will then receive a notice to report for induction at least ten days in advance of the date on which he is to report to the induction station. It is during this period that the registrant should make the arrangements of his affairs which become effective in the event he is accepted by the armed forces.

Upon reporting at the induction station, the army examining board gives each registrant the final physical examination. Those who are accepted will be immediately forwarded to the nearest reception center. Those who are rejected will be returned home by the army. Those who have been unable to complete the adjustment of their civilian affairs, and who face hardship as a result of induction, may request the commanding officer of the reception center to grant a furlough for a number of days necessary, in no case not more than ten days. If a furlough is granted, the registrant must pay his own transportation from the reception center to his home and return.

It is estimated that the change procedure will decrease by approximately twenty days the period necessary for processing each group of registrants. Local boards are engaged in the process of reclassifying men who have been previously classified into Class IV-F and into Class I-B because of physical defects. Many of these men are now being forwarded to army examining boards for final-type physical examination to determine their classification under the revised physical standards now in effect. After March 30, men in these classifications will be forwarded to the induction station and if found physically qualified under the new physical standards will be immediately inducted.
